Meet our new provider relations representative

We are pleased to introduce the new provider relations representative for the Southern Salt Lake County Region (from Murray south). JanaLynn Pearce has several years' experience in the health insurance industry and working in a dental office. For the past six months, she has worked on EMI Health's Provider Assistance line. JanaLynn has a master's degree from Brigham Young University and is a nationally certified phlebotomist. She is a tremendous asset to our team, and we are confident that you will find her knowledge and experience to be a great benefit to our providers as well.

Do we have your most recent Board Certification information?

As part of the credentialing process, EMI Health requires that many specialties be Board Certified. This helps us meet our HEDIS quality measures and ensures that our members are receiving the best care possible. If your specialty requires Board Certification, it is important that you notify us as soon as you receive your Board Certification and keep us informed of any changes in your certification status (termination or renewal).

Updated provider manual online

We've recently updated our administrative manual. To access the manual, go to the Provider Forms section of our website at www.emihealth.com and select Medical Provider Manual.

While you're there, you can also subscribe to receive this newsletter online and register your My EMI Health account for around-the-clock access to eligibility, benefit, and claims information.

Watch for the Network Care logo

Your provider agreement with EMI Health includes the Affiliated Managed Care Plans (AMCPs) who access the Network Care panel. A list of AMCPs can be obtained through your My EMI Health account. Members can also be identified by the presence of the Network Care logo on their ID cards:

Of course, a patient's eligibility status may change over time, so we recommend that you confirm eligibility directly with the AMCP. Claims questions should also be directed to the AMCP. Call your EMI Health provider relations representative with any contracting or credentialing questions.
